Just the other day Johnson's little girl ran in to make another call on the Simpkins's, who lived next door. She raced around the house for a few joyous minutes and was then halted at the sight of a big dish of oranges. She hastily tucked one under her jacket, causing the garment to protrude in a way that was bound to attract attention. But it was out of sight and that fact met her idea of concealment. "I must go home now," she said as she skipped into the presence of Mrs. Simpkins. That knowing lady asked her little visitor to sit down and then told her a pretty story about a little girl who had stolen some fruit, realized how wrong it was and put it back where she found it. The good woman had her reward in see ing her caller run into the dining room and come back radiant without that conspicuous bulging jacket. "Now, dear,"

Mrs. Simpkins, "you'll find some nice oranges out on the table. I want you to take one home with you She was prettily thanked and congratulated herself as she thought how she had done a good deed and sown good seed without hurting the feelings of the little Johnson girl. "I never had any children of my own," meditated Mrs. Simpkins, "but know much better how to deal with them than does many a mother.' "Good-bye, Auntie Simpkins," floated from the dining room. "I think I'll go the back way. "Good-bye, dear," was the reply. "Come When Auntie Simpkins went to the dining room she sighed and groaned, for she only had two oranges left out of six.

THE LIGHTEST LOADED CAR MOVE-MENT IN MANY MONTHS.

The Panhandle and Vandalia to Be Brought to a High Standard-Scarcity of Day Laborers.

The train records show that there were received and forwarded at Indianapolis in the week ended July 13 a total of 23,912 cars, 18,312 being loaded, the lightest loaded car movement at this city in any week of eighteen months past. The unfavorable exhibit is wholly due to the light grain movement, as in all other classes of freight the tonnage was in excess of any former year; especially does this statement apply to north-and-south roads. The heavy traffic over the Big Four's Cleveland division made up for a shortage on its Chicago division, but all divisions of the Big Four handled at Indianapolis 500 fewer loaded cars than in the corresponding week of 1900. The Pennsylvania lines fared better. the four divisions handling at Indianapolis 541 more loaded cars than last year, and this gain was largely with the Chicago and Louisville divisions. The business of the Lake Erie & Western under its close relations with the Lake Shore has increased its traffic at this city, the road handling at Indianapolis last week seventysix more loaded cars than in the correof grain and cerealine products for export are at a low ebb, while more provisions and flour are going forward than last year for export. Very seldom is the tonnage with east-and-west roads so well equalized in opposite directions as during the last three weeks, and this has much to do with the handsome earning exhibits the Indianapolis lines are showing. The better methimproved conditions. traffic is in excess of the corresponding than in any July in their history. The decrease in traffic is the result of an unusualwill apply to local as well as through ship- the request of the freight engineers. If reports are true, the Toledo, St. Louis & Western will soon change hands again. Just who the new owners are to be is not told definitely, but two syndicates have been named as bidders for the property. The receipts of cattle this week have been comparatively liberal, showing an increase of 700 over last week, 1,300 over the same week a year ago and 1,250 over the corresponding week two years ago. Thus far this year there is a gain of nearly ror, it is stated, was the result of the for- 25,000 compared with the same period last year. Some features of the market this week have been more unsatisfactory than of dealers. Unfortunately for the market, the receipts have consisted principally of Transcontinental Association and of the ordinary stockers and unfinished cattle, and the supplies were naturally too large to be handled without considerable loss in values. The country demand on account of continued dry weather was of little importance, and speculators were the principal buyers | of any kind below fat stock.
